A Christmas Market Thank You

There were many jobs to be done
And many did them one by one
You baked such goodies, delicious treats
Cookies, pies, squares and of course, mincemeat.
You created baskets, and wreaths galore.
And sewed and knitted and so much more.
The quiches were made, the soups were great,
And delivered with care, by a team first rate.
The room was lovely and Santa did shine,
And the children's table was just divine.
The songs were played with love and care
By the piano players with talents rare
Many manned the tables and greeted our guests,
Bottle pull, or Lucky Duck, you gave your best.
The readers were happy on the great book search
Smiles and fun in the halls of our church
Then, as if by magic, it was all cleaned up,
Right down to the very last cup.
The floors were swept, the tables away,
Tired but happy, the end of the day.
So thank you to all, for your efforts supreme.
However you helped, we made a great team!

Refugee Committee Update Nov. 2018

In mid-October, our local deanery (i.e., 13-church) refugee committee made a difficult but encouraging decision. To put this in context, 20-35 individuals from our Anglican churches have been working together since December of 2015 (three years) to support refugee families fleeing violence and socially dysfunctional situations – 4 families from Syria, and 1 from Ethiopia (by way of four years they spent in a camp in Kenya). To date, our committee as a group has met 40 times to accomplish this work. Not surprisingly, we have experienced some volunteer fatigue . . . and none of us is getting any younger!

At our previous September meeting, we literally went round the table and determined who thought they could continue to support our collective efforts, and who – with good reason – could not. Almost astonishingly, most indicated they would be willing to sponsor one more family. Most of us then went back to our churches to look for endorsement of our direction and came to the October meeting prepared to contribute to a decision. Collectively, we decided that we would take a 'break' after our official commitment to our 5th family ends in mid-December and not contemplate a new sponsorship until sometime in the spring – say March or April 2019. We also reviewed our finances and determined that – in rough terms – we would need $20,000 to support a new family of four. As of mid-December we should have about $7,000 left in our refugee account. Two highly generous Anglican donors have come forward and indicated that they are prepared to contribute up to $5,000 to help us fund our 6th family. This means that our 13 local churches need to contribute roughly $8,000 over a year for us to be able to finance a 6th refugee family. To put this in context, to date our 13 churches have donated over $86,000 to our refugee outreach, which I consider to have been astonishingly generous; we have been more than up to the task. Another way to look at the financial challenge is to note that the amount that we need works out to roughly $12 per church per week if spread out over twelve months, which seems eminently doable if our respective parishes buy into the extension of our work.

I am not providing this information so as to ask for funds right now. Christmas is coming, and we have many other places to provide support to those in need – our Angel Tree and our St. John's Kitchen pre-New Year's lunch, to name two. That said, as a member of the committee I thought I owed it to everyone at St. George's to give you an indication of where the refugee committee is headed and what we would deeply appreciate from parishioners as we move forward.

If you have any questions about our committee discussions, you can direct them to me, Wendy Sherlock, or Jim Stirling and we will do our best to answer them. If you have any questions about transportation assistance for our families, you could direct them to Ruth Ann Boos as she has provided some of this support.

John Ryrie

Thank You!

While Mother Nature did not cooperate with the timing of the fall clean-up of our out of doors property, we must acknowledge the work of Ivan, Jim and Mike done to freshen up Thompson Hall with a fresh coat of paint.

Thank you as well to the elves who reinstalled the bulletin boards and other display material once the painting was completed.

Our maintenance schedule suggests the floors in Thompson Hall will be stripped and refinished between Christmas and New Year's.

Barring a surprise break in the weather, our spring clean-up will require all hands on deck!

Your Property Committee

Used Magazines

I'm hoping to collect magazines from non-smoking homes for patients of Grand River Hospital. Please see Deb Chine if you have some to donate. Thanks so much

Social Justice Committee Update

The committee, which has met three times, is very much a work in progress as we gradually determine our focus. We now have a bulletin board in the lower level of the church (opposite the bottom of the stairs) on which you will find thoughtful articles, newspaper columns, cartoons, and letters-to-the-editor. For some of these, we will be printing a few extra copies for any parishioners who would like to take a copy home with them; these copies will be pinned to the board, and easily removed. Please feel free to do so. To date, our intent is to stimulate thinking, discussion, reflection, and understanding. As we are able, we hope to publicize local events, lectures, rallies, etc. that ostensibly highlight significant issues of social concern. The committee next plans to meet in the Fireside Room, Saturday Dec. 3rd, at 10 a.m. John Ryrie

Meditative Singing

Singing is one of the most essential elements of worship. Short songs, repeated again and again, give it a meditative character. Using just a few words, they express a basic reality of faith, quickly grasped by the mind. As the words are sung over many times, this reality gradually penetrates one's being to the heart... We invite you to join us in prayer for world peace and unity among Creation using meditative singing on:

Sunday, January 27 at 7:30 pm Week of Prayer for Christian Unity hosted by Calvin Presbyterian Church, 248 Westmount road E. Kit
